

ILLUSTRATED

Evening Ledger

MONDAY
August 28, 1916

CAMERA GLIMPSES OF NEWS AND FASHIONS THAT ARE UP TO DATE OR A BIT BEYOND

By Evening Ledger Staff Photographer.
AIR FLYER LOOKS DOWN UPON
MARINE "SPEED BOYS"

Here we see how the cozy quarters of the Corinthian Yacht Club, down at Essington, appeared when beheld from the airship of Robert Glendinning, from which the camera artist obtained this bird's-eye view.

Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.
CHIC MODEL IN BROAD-
CLOTH FOR LATE FALL
Softly finished dark green, with trimming of velvet in a still darker shade. The hat, adorned with a small feather, matches the trimming.

Photo by Underwood & Underwood.
COMMANDS CZAR'S FORCES IN FRANCE
General Lohvitzky is one of Russia's best military men. He was selected for his present post on the western front because he was looked upon in Russia as being eminently fitted to represent his country in a foreign field.

Photo by International Film Service.
A BULLOZ CREATION FOR AUTUMN WEAR
An advance model of brown wool velour that is made more attractive by collar and cuffs of seal.

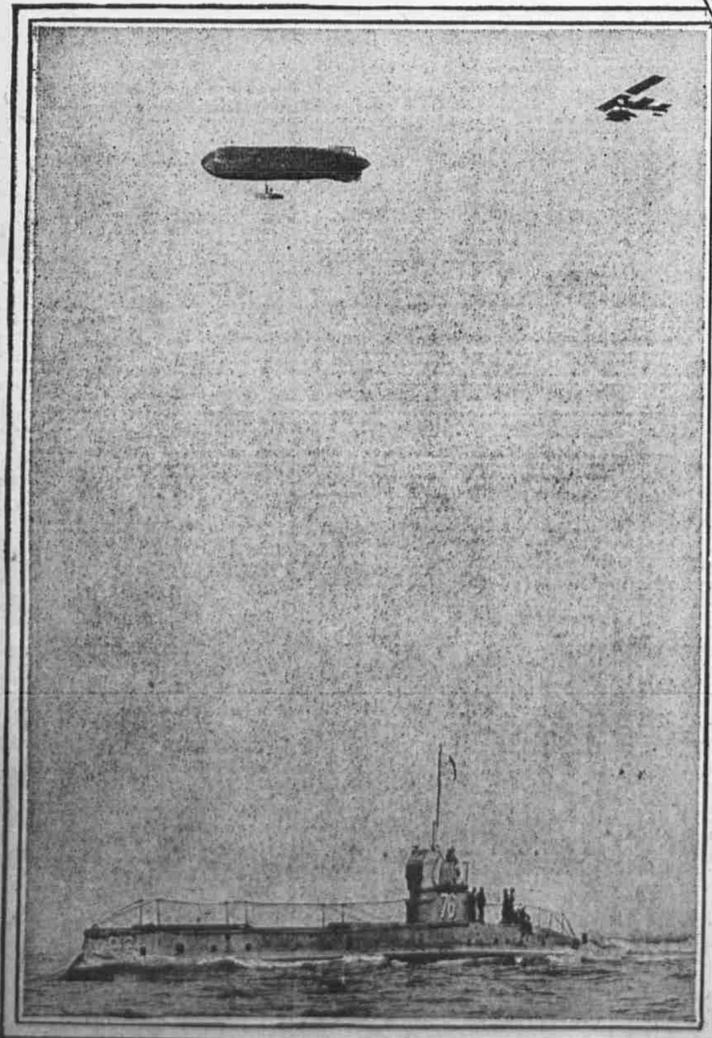

Photo by Underwood & Underwood.
HOW BRITAIN "CENSORS" SEA AND AIR

Triple naval guardians of the coast of Albion are scouring clouds and waters for German craft. The submarine is tearing through the seas while an airship hovers above it. Protecting the two sears an aeroplane high in the air.

Photo by Modern Photo Service.
FRANCE FETES HER BULLET-BATTERED HEROES

Convalescent wounded veterans of Verdun were guests of honor at a banquet given in Lyons. The celebration was attended by the municipal and military officials of the place.